Future Contact Desires

In the past, adoptions tended to be sealed and both the adopted child and the parents who relinquished the child were uninformed about each other. In recent years, open adoptions have become a popular alternative and have been deemed healthier for the emotional well-being of all those involved. There are now adoption registers with each state where you have the option of listing your information and whether or not you might want to be contacted by the child when he reaches the age of eighteen. Please list your requests or desires about any future contact that you might want to have with the adoptive family. _____

After this child reaches adulthood:

If this child is curious and wants to meet you, are you willing to have a meeting arranged? ___ Yes ___ No. Would you prefer not to meet the child and to have the adoptive parents explain your reasons for giving him/her up for adoption? ___ Yes ___ No. Would you want to be contacted in case of a medical emergency if you could be of some help (whether the child was a minor or adult)? ___ Yes ___ No. Are you willing to write a letter to the child and perhaps enclose a photo of yourself and/or the birth father to be given to him/her at an appropriate time? ___ Yes ___ No.
